The Stans of Central Asia:

Uzbekistan, Turkmenistan, Tajikistan, Kyrgyzstan and Kazakhstan

Tour overview

Central Asia, or "The Stans", is a vast landlocked region of Asia, popular amongst travellers who want to experience one of the world's last great frontier lands.

The Silk Road was a network of Eurasian trade routes spanning 6,400 km, linking East to West, and fostering the exchange of goods, ideas, and cultures that shaped human history. Central Asia is defined as much by its climate as by its geography. The region's aridness made agriculture difficult, and as a result, few large cities developed. Instead, the region was dominated by the nomadic horse people of the Steppe. Historically conquered by many warriors, the area finally fell under Stalin's rule, where it was known as Turkestan. After independence, the five former Soviet Central Asian Republics emerged — Uzbekistan, Turkmenistan, Tajikistan, Kyrgyzstan and Kazakhstan.

Uzbekistan shines with some of the world's most celebrated Islamic architecture. Walking through Registan Square in Samarkand, the old town of Bukhara, and Khiva's walled city is like exploring open-air museums of mosaics, domes, and minarets. Enigmatic Turkmenistan is unlike anywhere else, where the ultra-modern, marble-clad capital of Ashgabat contrasts sharply with the ancient ruins of Merv and Old Nissa. Few tourists make it beyond the capital, and the friendly locals are the ones taking photos — of us!

The most rugged and remote, Tajikistan is dominated by the legendary Pamir Mountains, where high-altitude landscapes meet warm village hospitality. In contrast, Kyrgyzstan is defined by its mountains and nomadic spirit. In this wild frontier, you'll meet Eagle hunters, experience village hospitality, and dine inside yurts. Crossing more spectacular mountains into Kazakhstan, the largest and most modern country, we conclude our journey with the fantastic museums and cultural sites of Almaty.

Our journey encompasses many historic places and "storybook" destinations. Beautiful monuments, some restored and some not, museums full of ancient artifacts, colourful bazaars, stunning landscapes and wonderfully friendly locals.

Activity rating: Active

This tour requires a good level of fitness. You should be able to walk for up to an hour at a steady pace, manage stairs, varied terrain and inclines, and board and disembark transport independently

2nd April 2027 DEPARTURE

Depart Australia for Tashkent, Uzbekistan. Our recommended flight is via Seoul, and we will provide you with an individual flight plan for your journey.

Day 1, Friday 2nd April TRANSIT – INCHEON, SOUTH KOREA

On arrival in Incheon (Seoul), you'll be transferred to your hotel near the airport for a one-night stay. Overnight: Incheon.

Day 2, Saturday 3rd April ARRIVAL – TASHKENT, UZBEKISTAN

You'll have a free morning to stretch your legs and explore the local neighbourhood of Incheon, before your afternoon flight to Tashkent. Overnight: Tashkent B

Day 3, Sunday 4th April TASHKENT

Today we'll enjoy a full day exploring Uzbekistan's capital, Tashkent. We'll visit the city's main squares, tree-lined streets, and explore the metro stations—an attraction in their own right. Prepare for sensory overload at Chorsu Bazaar, Tashkent's expansive local market. Then share your first of many cups of tea at a family-run ceramic workshop, and learn about one of Uzbekistan's oldest art forms. We'll visit the Applied Arts Museum and the memorial museum, then finish our day at a well-known local restaurant serving Central Asia's most traditional meal, plov.

Overnight: Tashkent B/D

Day 4, Monday 5th April TASHKENT – SAMARKAND

An early start today, as we take the comfortable high-speed train to Samarkand (approx 2.5 hours). Situated at the crossroads of world cultures for over two and a half millennia, Samarkand is one of the most important and beautiful sites on the Silk Road. We'll have an orientation walk on arrival and visit the enormous and impressive Registan Square, Bibi Khanym Mosque and Gur-e-Amir Mausoleum.

Overnight: Samarkand B/D

Day 5, Tuesday 6th April SAMARKAND

This morning we'll continue our exploration of the city's most famous landmarks, including the surprisingly beautiful Shah-i-Zinda, the fascinating Ulugbek Observatory and the Afrosiyob Museum. In the afternoon, we'll visit the silk paper centre and the carpet factories that produce the silk carpets the region is famous for, returning to the city for dinner. Overnight: Samarkand B/D

Day 6, Wednesday 7th April SAMARKAND – BUKHARA

This morning, we'll take another fast train journey from Samarkand to Bukhara (approx. 1.5 hours). We'll leave our luggage at the hotel and head out to explore this lovely city, which has been a hub for traders and travellers since its foundation over 2,000 years ago. Our guided tour will include the Labi Hauz complex, the stunning domes of the old city, Bozori Kord Khammam (sauna), and the Ulugbeg and Abdulazizhkan madrassahs. We'll return to our hotel in the late afternoon to freshen up and will spend the next three nights here. Overnight: Bukhara B/D

Day 7, Thursday 8th April BUKHARA

Mosques, madrasas and markets await today as we continue to explore the fascinating ancient city of Bukhara. Highlights include the Ark Fortress, Bolo Hauz Mosque and the Samani Mausoleum. Your afternoon is free, and our hotel is centrally located near the ancient trading domes, the ideal place to wander, have a coffee, or pick up a local handicraft. This evening we'll enjoy a folk show at Devonbegi Medressah. Overnight: Bukhara B/D

Day 8, Friday 9th April BUKHARA

Today, we'll explore more of the delights of fascinating Bukhara. This includes the summer palace of the last emir of Bukhara and the mausoleum of Baha al-Din Naqshband. We'll also visit the local synagogue and a puppeteer workshop, and if time permits, you can wander the fabulous trading domes again and haggle for a memento or two. Overnight: Bukhara B/D

Day 9, Saturday 10th April BUKHARA – MARY, TURKMENISTAN

Today is a challenging travel day, as we say goodbye to Uzbekistan for a few days and cross into Turkmenistan. The roads are arduous, and the border formalities can be lengthy and often frustrating. However, this is part of the experience of visiting lesser-travelled countries. We'll meet our new driver and guide for the journey through the desert to Mary for a one-night rest stop. Overnight: Mary B/D

Day 10, Sunday 11th April MARY – MERV – ASHGABAT

Today, we'll drive east towards Bayram-Ali, the historical and cultural park of Ancient Merv, listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site. The cities that developed at Merv together formed one of the most complex urban centres on the Silk Route of Central Asia. We'll explore the well-preserved remains, then return to Mary to visit the local History Museum. It presents an astounding array of archaeological finds dating from 3000 BC to the late 19th century. In the afternoon, we'll continue our desert drive to Ashgabat, Turkmenistan's capital. Overnight: Ashgabat B/D

Day 11, Monday 12th April ASHGABAT AND SURROUNDS

Today, we'll visit the fortress of Old Nisa, a UNESCO World Heritage Site and the earliest Parthian Empire capital at the foot of the Kopet-Dag Mountains. Next, we'll visit a local stud farm to meet the family and learn about their pure-blood Akhal-Tekke horses. We'll return to Ashgabat via Kipchak village to visit the biggest mosque in Turkmenistan and the family mausoleum of the first president. We'll conclude our day at the National Museum of History, home to over 325,000 objects, including artefacts from many of Turkmenistan's archaeological sites. Overnight: Ashgabat B/L/D

Day 12, Tuesday 13th April ASHGABAT – DASHOGUZ

Prepare to be surprised! Ashgabat is one of the quirkiest cities, made of white Carrara marble that positively shines in the desert sun. This morning we'll explore the city's main monuments, then at lunch we'll try our hand at preparing our own "somsa" (local dumpling) in a cooking class. Finally, we'll visit the fascinating National Carpet Museum, home to the world's largest carpet and other exquisite objects. In the late afternoon, we'll transfer to the airport for our evening flight to Dashoguz (1 hour). You can grab a snack for dinner at Ashgabat airport, if you have room after lunch! Overnight: Dashoguz B/L

Day 13, Wednesday 14th April DASHOGUZ – KHIVA \(UZBEKISTAN\)

After breakfast, we'll leave Dashoguz and travel to the UNESCO-listed Kunya Urgench, with its wonderful architecture and monuments dating back to the 11th century. We'll then drive to the Uzbek border to meet our original Uzbek guide. Once again, patience will be needed as we complete border formalities before driving to Khiva (approx 1 hour). Legend has it that the son of Noah founded Khiva, while archaeology suggests it was founded as early as 5000 BC. In its heyday as the last resting place of caravans before crossing the desert to Iran, Khiva was a vital stop on the Silk Road where the sale of camels, carpets, coffee and concubines shaped capitalism as we know it. Overnight: Khiva B/D

Day 14, Thursday 15th April KHIVA

Today, we'll explore the magnificent Khiva, regarded as one of Central Asia's most coherent and well-preserved examples of Muslim architecture. Even though this walled city is small, there are seemingly endless alleyways and sites (to say nothing of craft shops) to discover with the help of our guide. We'll explore the highlights of the old city, including the city gates, the Allakuli Khan Madrasah, the Kalta minaret, the Kunya Ark fortress, the Juma mosque and the Tosh Hovli Palace. Overnight: Khiva B/D

Day 15, Friday 16th April KHIVA – TASHKENT

We'll continue exploring Khiva this morning, visiting the sites we didn't have time for yesterday. The fascinating Silk Museum showcases the traditional silk-making process, from silkworm cultivation to weaving, within the historic setting of the ancient Itchan Kala. We'll have lunch at a local restaurant, followed by free time before our evening flight to Tashkent (1.5 hours). We'll overnight at a hotel near the airport, before flying to Dushanbe in the morning. Overnight: Tashkent B/L

Day 16, Saturday 17th April TASHKENT – DUSHANBE \(TAJIKISTAN\)

This morning, we'll take an early flight to Dushanbe (which means Monday), a relatively new city named after the traditional bazaar held here on Mondays. We'll meet our new guide and visit some of the city's key sites, including the decadent Navruz Palace and Tajik Buddha. This 14m Buddha statue, the largest of its kind in Central Asia, was transported in 43 pieces by a team of restorers from the Hermitage Museum and painstakingly restored to what we see today. The city's Archeological Museum is a fascinating visit, with exhibits from its many civilisations (Greek, Buddhist, Hindu, Zoroastrian and Islamic). Overnight: Dushanbe B/D

Day 17, Sunday 18th April ISKANDERKUL LAKE DAY TRIP

Today we'll take a scenic day trip to Iskanderkul Lake, nestled in the heart of the Fann Mountains (approx 3hrs). The mountain roads will be rough, but the beautiful views of the lakes along the way are worth it. Named after Alexander the Great and sitting at an altitude of 2,200 metres, this glacial lake is simply stunning. We'll have lunch overlooking the lake, then spend some time walking in the area. The hike to the nearby waterfall is approximately 1.5 hours and rated as challenging. Overnight: Dushanbe B/L/D

Day 18, Monday 19th April DUSHANBE

This morning we'll continue our tour of the delightful capital, visiting the central mosque, the National Museum of Tajikistan and the impressive Friendship Square. Time permitting, we'll take a stroll through the extensive Rudaki Park, named after the Tajik poet. After lunch, we'll visit Hissar Fortress, the residence of Bukhara Emirs during the 18th century, with its original city walls and arched gateways. Overnight: Dushanbe B/D

Day 19, Tuesday 20th April DUSHANBE – BISHKEK \(KYRGYZSTAN\)

Today is another travel day, as we fly from Dushanbe to Bishkek (via Tashkent). Pack a good book, as the flight schedules often result in a few hours' wait in Tashkent. Overnight: Bishkek B/D

Day 20, Wednesday 21st April BISHKEK AND SURROUNDS

This morning we'll head out of Bishkek to the breathtaking Ala-Archa Alpine National Park, in the Tian-Shan Mountains for a light hike. There are some 20 glaciers within the park, and it is also home to the endangered and very rare snow leopard. We'll return to the city to explore the highlights of the capital, including the colourful atmosphere of the Osh Bazaar, and Lenin Square. At tonight's dinner we'll try the traditional Kyrgyz hunting dish "Tash Mangal", followed by a folklore show and Manas performance. Overnight: Bishkek B/D

Day 21, Thursday 22nd April BISHKEK – CHON-KEMIN

This morning we'll continue our sightseeing in Bishkek, visiting its impressive monuments, tree-lined boulevards, gardens and historic city squares. After lunch we'll travel to the beautiful Chon-Kemin Valley. We'll stop en route at the Burana Historical Complex, an open-air archeological museum of Balbals (carved stone warriors). We'll arrive at our guesthouse for dinner. Overnight: Chon-Kemin B/D

Day 22, Friday 23rd April CHON-KEMIN

Today we'll experience local life in the Chon Kemin valley, starting with a demonstration of felt carpet making and then horse games played by locals. After lunch, we'll visit Kalmak Ashuu Gorge on a horse and cart (a light hike is also possible). In the afternoon, there'll be free time to explore the local village and soak up the stunning mountain scenery. A delicious homemade dinner will be served on the terrace, opening to the panoramic view of the mountains and village. Overnight: Chon-Kemin B/L/D

DAY 23, Saturday 24th April CHON-KEMIN – KARAKOL

Today we'll take a scenic five-hour drive to Karakol via the shores of Issyk-Kul Lake. In the village of Bokonbaev, we'll visit a local hunter who keeps golden falcons and shares stories of traditional falconry, including an eagle-hunting demonstration. Our lunch is at a local villager's home, before we continue to Jeti Oguz Gorge, a scenic regional township of beautiful hills and streams. Those who wish can take a gentle one-hour walk to enjoy the views and fresh mountain air, before we continue to Karakol. On arrival, we'll visit the all-wood Russian Orthodox church (built without nails) and the Dungan mosque, reflecting the culture of the local Dungan Muslim community originally from western China. We'll spend the next two nights at a local guesthouse. Overnight: Karakol B/L/D

Day 24, Sunday 25th April DAY TRIP TO JYRGALAN

This morning we'll visit the local livestock market. Kyrgyz come from all over the region to buy and sell horses, sheep, and cattle – and also to socialise! This is the only animal market in Kyrgyzstan, and people may travel for days with their livestock to reach it. It's the perfect place to dive into local culture. After this, we'll set out through the beautiful landscapes and traditional villages of the Jyrgalan Valley. We'll visit a local home and learn how to cook a Kyrgyz bread called Boorsok – small pieces of dough fried in a Kazan (steel pot) over an open fire – followed by a barbecue lunch. You'll love the freshly cooked boorsok served with jam or honey! Walking through the area is a great way to learn more about Kyrgyz rural life. Overnight: Karakol B/L/D

Day 25, Monday 26th April KARAKOL – CHOLPON ATA

This morning, we'll visit the Museum of Explorer Nikolai Przhevalsky, then travel to the Reina-Kench Ranch on the banks of the Jyrgalan River. There'll be time to explore the farm before our organic lunch prepared from products grown on the farm. We'll continue to Cholpon-Ata, where we finish our day with dinner and a boat trip on the beautiful alpine lake surrounded by snow-capped mountains. Overnight: Cholpon Ata. B/L/D

Day 26, Tuesday 27th April CHOLPON ATA – ALMATY (KAZAKHSTAN)

This morning, we'll visit the fascinating open-air Petroglyphs Museum, which features over 5,000 ancient rock carvings dating back to 1500 BC. Then we'll begin our journey towards Kazakhstan. It's about a 3-hour drive to the border, where we'll change drivers and guides. We'll continue travelling to Almaty (another 3 hours), where we will spend the next four nights. Overnight: Almaty B/D

Day 27, Wednesday 28th April ALMATY

Today, we'll enjoy a walking tour of Almaty, the former capital of Kazakhstan. At Panfilov Park, an eternal flame commemorates the fallen soldiers of 1917–20 (the Civil War) and 1941–45 (WWII) and burns in front of a giant black monument of soldiers from all 15 Soviet republics. We'll visit the Museum of National Musical Instruments' collection of traditional Kazakh instruments – wooden harps, horns, bagpipes, and the lute-like two-stringed dombra. We'll continue to the Green Bazaar and then Kok-Tobe Hill, where there is a great viewing deck, souvenir shops, and, bizarrely enough, a bronze monument devoted to the Beatles. Overnight: Almaty B/D

Day 28, Thursday 29th April DAY TRIP TO ESIK VILLAGE

Today we'll head out to explore the beautiful local countryside. Our first stop is Esik Village, lying on the Issyk River at the foot of the Tian Shan Mountains. Here, archaeologists found the grave of a Scythian warrior that contained an elaborate costume adorned with thousands of gold pieces. It has become known as the gravesite of the Golden Warrior. In the afternoon, we'll drive on to Ile-Alatau National Park, famous for its wildlife and scenic beauty. We'll return to Almaty for dinner. Overnight: Almaty B/D

Day 29, Friday 30th April ALMATY

We'll continue sightseeing in Almaty with visits to Republic Square, Independence Monument, and Arbat Street, a popular area filled with artists selling their works. The Central Historical Museum showcases Kazakhstan's history from bronze-age burial mounds to the modern day. One of our favourites is the ethnographic display, which features yurts, horse and camel gear, jewellery and exotic costumes dating back to the 18th century. In the afternoon, we'll sample some of Kazakhstan's surprisingly good wines, then return to the hotel to rest, before your flight this evening. There'll be a light dinner available at the hotel, and your room is available until you depart. B/D

Day 30, Saturday 1st May TRANSIT INCHEON

Flights will transit back through Incheon on the journey home, and will arrive home on Sunday morning.

Note. If you'd like to combat the jet lag with a stopover in Seoul, or an airport hotel, this can be arranged when we book your flights.
